FOLKS CAN'T SAY THAT WE ARE SLOW-WE ARE ALWAYS ON THE GO!

WORK

THINGS keep moving around this shop. Despite the fact that we are kept very busy we do not allow that fact to interfere with the quality of our work. Every repair job we tackle is finished in a workmanlike manner, and the person who ordered it is pleased to pay our moderate bill.

SCOTLAND NECK BOOSTER COLUMN

By CLEE VAUGHAN.

This column is dedicated to the boosting of Scotland Neck, and all citizens of the town, or those interested in Scotland Neck, living in other towns, are not only at liberty, but urged to use this space to help boost Scotland Neck. Everything in this column from time to time, not otherwise designated, will be contributed by Mr. Vaughan. However, it is sincerely hoped that all good and progressive citizens will join and help to make SCOTLAND NECK the moving spirit of North Carolina.

Mrs. H. I. Clark says that she received a letter sometime ago that was addressed to her at Scotland Neck, which was mis-sent to Edinburg, Scotland, and the postmaster there put the notation on it: "Try N. C." Was Hon. Claude Kitchen right? Is Scotland Neck North Carolina?

"You tell 'em," said Landon Whitehead. "I'll help you boost Scotland Neck." That's the spirit. The boys of Scotland Neck might as well get the habit, for they will be the only ones left to boost it after we "old boys" have gone. If that boy can boost as well as he can debate, he'll "tell 'em," all right.

"Haven't you gone home yet," a visitor was asked yesterday. "What's the use to go home? I'll have to come right back," he said. "for I can't stay away from Scotland Neck."

Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. If I get out of boosting material, I'll just begin on our gentlemanly boys and lady-like girls and talk a year or so.

One of the liveliest firms in Eastern Carolina is in the undertaking business in Scotland Neck, but their other lines are responsible for the splendid reputation they have as leading merchants. Scotland Neck is such a good town to LIVE in that the demand for food, wearing apparel and other lines of general merchandise, such as this live and wide-awake firm handles, exceeds the demand for burial goods.

In the list of distinguished Scotland Neck men published a few days ago, the name of Chief Justice Walter Clark was left out. Miss Lena Smith reminds us. Another name left out that should have been mentioned, and which Miss Lena did not call attention to, is the name of her brother, Col. Lill Smith. In fact, the names were not given, but a honorary colonel was referred to, which is our ex-townsmen, Mr. Albion Dunn, who was also mayor of the thriving town of Greenville for a long time. Col. Smith was also an honorary colonel.

BOOST SCOTLAND NECK EVERY DAY.

POLO CIGARETTES

"Fifteen better cigarettes for ten cents," is the inducement offered to smokers by the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., in introducing Polo Cigarettes in this city.

Backed by a liberal use of newspaper advertising, Polos are being given widespread publicity with the object of convincing smokers that for the price Polo is the best cigarette value the market.

Realizing that it is a true indication of "old times" to be able again to push a quality cigarette in a dime package, the manufacturers have adopted a lively new slogan for the present advertising campaign. "That's more like it," is the caption graphic cartoons of delighted Polo smokers.

It is believed that Polo will "catch on" instantly, not only because of its attractive price, but because of the widely recognized reputation of Liggett & Myers for putting good tobacco into their products. Tobacco experts concede that Polo is an unusually good-tasting smoke. This is due to the fine quality of Virginia, Burley and Turkish tobaccos used, and also the unusual way in which the tobaccos are blended.

The black and red package is a fitting container for a quality smoke—one of the handiest packages that has ever been put out. Nor have the manufacturers skimped in quantity in order to put up a quality smoke in a dime package. Every Polo cigarette is full weight and full size.
